

LIFE MEMBERSHIPS, highest award given by the PTA, were presented last Monday evening to two Sierra Madrans long active in school affairs. Mrs. Helen Obazawa is shown presenting the pins to Frank Jerome, former school bus driver and now a custodian, and to Mrs. Zayda Leonard, retired teacher who taught children in the Sierra Madre Elementary School District for 32 years.

New Street Appraisal Is Now Underway

A two-way appraisal is being made off the effect of a street between Sierra Madre Blvd. and Esperanza, through from Baldwin to Hermosa, it was reported yesterday.

The appraisal by an independent agency is expected to show (1) how much a street would cost property owners and (2) how great the benefit would be to them.

Currently, there is considerable resistance among property owners to the building of a street. These include business men with shops on Sierra Madre Blvd. and private residents whose homes are on Esperanza.

SEVERAL alternatives have been studied by City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington and by councilmen.

One calls for a 60-foot street, half on property owned by businessmen and half on land owned by Esperanza residents.

S.M. Pioneer Succumbs After Long Illness

Lester G. Bunker, 475 W. Grand View, died yesterday in his home following an illness of six weeks. He was 84 years old.

Born in Denver, Colo., Mr. Bunker came to Sierra Madre from Los Angeles 35 years ago. He dealt in property development until his retirement 10 years ago.

Mr. Bunker was a member of the Baptist Church and was active in the Home Missionary Society.

He is survived by two nephews, Hugh Bunker of Monrovia, and Evans C. Bunker of Calfax, Wash., and one niece, Mrs. Ruth Beam of San Francisco.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Funeral Services Held for Mrs. C. M. Watson

Funeral services were held Saturday for Mrs. Cora May Watson, 25 Lowell Ave., who died in her home Feb. 13. She was 88 years old.

A native of Rockford, Ill., Mrs. Watson had lived in California for the past 45 years, 12 in Sierra Madre. She made her home with her daughter, Mrs. A. S. Denis, and her granddaughter, Mrs. Lois A. Fish.

A son, Howard D. Watson, Santa Paula, another grandchild and two great grandchildren also survive.

Final rites were in the Ripple Mortuary Chapel with Mr. Ellis Fox officiating. Committal was private in Pasadena Mausoleum.

Polio Clinic in Medical Center

Another polio clinic will be in the Medical Center this Friday from 6 to 8:30 p. m., the Civic Club, sponsor of the service, reminded Sierra Madrans yesterday. The cost is $1 per shot.

FREDERICK V. BOWERS, hailed as "the poor man's Victor Borge," author of such musical hits as "Always" and "Because," will entertain the Kiwanis Club at next Tuesday's luncheon at the Woman's Clubhouse. Bowers operates under the sponsorship of ASCAP and has a high rating by the service clubs before which he has appeared in recent months.

Canyon Pool Uses Listed by Committee

Possible uses of the canyon pool, now abandoned, will be discussed by the Parks and Recreation Commission at the next meeting Feb. 25.

Several suggestions have been made by a committee named to explore the problem. Members are James McCoy, commission member, Councilman James Abernethy, Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, and his assistant, Thomas Butch.

The committee recommended several alternatives, including:

1. To get bids on the cost of demolition and the salvage of materials or to sell the building and require the buyer to move them from the premises.

2. Ask the L.A. Flood Control District to fill in that portion of the pool which is an obstruction to the regular flow of water.

3. Develop the area as a "parkette" (a small park) with picnic tables, benches, shrubbery, etc.

4. If the cost of creating a parkette is prohibitive, it was recommended that the area either be turned into a regulated public parking lot or the land sold to the highest bidder for parking purposes only.

Additional Recreation Is Sought

An expanded recreation program was adopted tentatively Tuesday night at a budget study session of the Parks and Recreation Commission.

Additional projects which the Commission would like to develop here include archery instructions, more concentrated tennis lessons, more teenage dances and general dance instructions for adults.

IT'S POSSIBLE that a small fee might be charged for activities that are limited to smaller groups, such as tennis and archery instructions. This would be as minimal as 25 cents, according to Thomas Butch, assistant city administrator.

New projects discussed by the Commission came out of a survey conducted by Dave Sommers, recreation director.

The Commission also discussed the Merrill property next to Sierra Vista Park with a view toward purchasing it as soon as possible.

THE CITY leased the land for two years, ending next August. At that time the city has an option to buy the property.

The current recreation budget is $17,600, including the cost of operating the swimming pool.

Mr. Butch said next year's budget, which would be effective July 1, 1959, may be slightly higher, providing, of course, that the City Council agrees.

Wistaria Flower Shop Sold to Bobbye Manzi

Bobbye Manzi opened the Wistaria Flower Shop last Friday with plenty of customers, but all too few roses and other plants.

Assuming management of the shop the day before Valentine's Day, Mrs. Manzi was swamped with business. Eventually, she filled all the orders. The customers were satisfied, and Mrs. Manzi was grateful to them for their patience.

The shop, which had been closed the past few weeks, was sold by Mrs. Ruth Blakeman. Mrs. Manzi, of Rosemead, has been in the floral business for many years.

Local GOP Members Greet Nixon

Seven Sierra Madrans were among the 1,140 guests at the Republican County Central Committee testimonial luncheon last Monday to Orville J. Evans, retiring GOP executive director. The affair was in the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Sierra Madrans attending were Frank Parks, Mrs. Nathaniel Van de Verg, Franklin France, Mrs. Mac Cason, Mrs. Robert de Weese and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Brown Jr.

A standing ovation greeted the main speaker, Vice President Richard Nixon, who was introduced by George Murphy.

Mr. Nixon had stopped at Chicago, Portland, Astoria and Salem, Ore., San Francisco and Los Angeles to confer with Republican Party leaders and workers.

Alphonso Bell, recently elected chairman of the Los Angeles County Central Committee, presided and conducted the testimonial tribute to Mr. Evans.

Sierra Madre Republicans also were well represented at the Lincoln Day dinner Feb. 11, at the Altadena Town and Country Club, at which Assemblymen Frank Lanterman and Bruce Reagan were the main speakers, and at the Feb. 12 luncheon at the Statler Hilton, at which Sen. Thomas Kuchel was the guest speaker.

Kiwanis Club Gives Library 39 Books

A gift of 39 books from the local Kiwanis Club has been received at the Sierra Madre Public Library.

Included in the selection are "Properties of Engineering Materials," by Murphy; "Pumps," by Kirtal and Annett; "Colloidal Methods of Analysis," by Snell and Snell; and "Effective Speech," by Gough.

Storm Fills Spreading Basins Here

The tropical storms which soaked Sierra Madre with 2.3 inches of rain early this week caused little damage, but did fill up the spreading basins in the water grounds on E. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Only minor water and mud damage was reported, although two trees in the city were felled by the downpour.

At the spreading ground, Pumping Operator Carl Rees said that all 16 catch basins are full and that the city is spreading water at the rate of about 17 cubic feet per second.

Most of the water spread, he said, is coming from Big Santa Anita Dam, although some runoff water from the street and from Little Santa Anita also was spread.

The city is now digging three more spreading basins, which will raise the total to 19. Water from them seeps into Raymond Basin from which Sierra Madre is supplied. The city is allotted 75 per cent of the amount spread.

Total rainfall here from the morning of Feb. 8 until Feb. 17 was 6.40 inches. The total so far this year is 10.87, compared with 14.87 a year earlier.

Simmons Elected Chest Head

William Simmons has been elected president of the Sierra Madre Community Chest for the coming year.

Other officers elected are Carl Cheadle, vice president; E. R. Mitchell, treasurer, and Mrs. Burton Cousins, secretary. The latter two were re-elected. Robert Lane, local jeweler, will be a new member of the Board of Directors.

Retiring from the Red Feather organization are Mrs. A. C. Willoughby, Woman's Club representative, and William Vensel, past president.

The Community Chest goal for the last campaign will be met, according to William Coulson, retiring president, when all pledges and donations through A.I.D. are received.

Water Petition Filed With County Clerk

Election May Be Scheduled in July

An election to hold a separate water district and to select members of a water board probably will be held in July, City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington said yesterday.

The step leading to the election was taken Tuesday when Mr. Bevington filed water petitions from the cities of Sierra Madre, Azusa, Monterey Park and Alhambra with the county clerk.

In Sierra Madre, Mr. Bevington obtained more than 500 signatures. A total of 444, or the signatures of 10 per cent of the voters in the last election, is required. The other three cities, Mr. Bevington said, had more than enough signatures.

AFTER THE petitions are approved for accuracy by the county clerk, the Board of Supervisors must call an election in not less than 90 nor more than 120 days. Balloting probably will be in July, both on the formation of the district and on the selection of a five-man board to supervise the district.

The voters in the four cities must cast a majority in favor of the district in order to establish it.

In Sierra Madre, Mr. Bevington explained, the district would be a legal entity only, at least in the immediate future. We would still operate our water system under the present procedure.

The new district's governing board, according to the city administrator, would spend much of its time investigating the water requirements in the San Gabriel Valley.

SIERRA MADRE, along with the other three cities, decided to form a separate district several months ago as a way of keeping out of the proposed San Gabriel Valley Water District and eventually the Metropolitan Water District.

It is believed that Sierra Madre, Azusa, Monterey Park and Alhambra have adequate water systems of their own and do not need to join the Metropolitan District, a step which, it is, argued, would be unreasonably expensive. Joining the Metropolitan District, it is estimated, would cost Sierra Madre alone approximately $800,000, including interest.

Cities in the San Gabriel Valley are now in the process of forming their own water district which will eventually, it is believed, be absorbed by the Metropolitan District.

IN ADDITION, Mr. Hiestand has the following engagements:

Friday, Feb. 20, noon—meeting of the Antelope Valley Progress Association.

Friday, Feb. 20, evening—Altadena Chamber of Commerce.

Tuesday, Feb. 24, noon—Industrial Committee, L.A. Chamber of Commerce.

Tuesday, Feb. 24, evening—North Hollywood Chamber of Commerce.

REP. Hiestand yesterday announced his support of the Administration-sponsored housing bill, rather than the bill introduced by the Democratic leadership.

The $5.8 billion Democratic bill, Mr. Hiestand said, "is class legislation, wherein selected groups are given Federal handouts, but for which all the people, including those which seem to benefit, pay a terrific and tragic price."

The Administration bill, which would cost $1.6 billion, has been called inadequate by the Democratic leadership.

Ten million dollars worth of County Flood Control District bonds—representing the first block of the $225,000,000 issue approved by voters last November—were sold by the County Board of Supervisors yesterday.

The funds derived from the sale of the county securities will be used to prepare plans and construct the first storm drain projects of a total of 184 approved under Proposition N, Board Chairman Frank G. Bonelli said.

The securities were sold to the highest bidder, Chase Manhattan Bank of New York. The successful bid provided for an interest rate of 3½ per cent, a premium of $77,000 and a net interest rate of 3.33 per cent.

There were four bidders for the purchase of the bonds, Bonelli said, following the opening of the bids at yesterday's board meeting.

Fred Harris

Boy Saves Life, Gets Red Cross Citation

A Sierra Madre boy was awarded a certificate of merit from the American National Red Cross last Friday for saving a Tarzana youth from drowning.

The certificate was presented to Fred Harris, 14, of 645 Auburn, by Larry C. Lomax, chairman of the Sierra Madre Chapter of the Red Cross, in John Marshall Junior High.

The Harris boy was swimming last July 15 at a pool in Tarzana, when Jimmy Smith, 5109 Mecca, Tarzana, was pulled from the water, unconscious.

Fred, who had just completed a Red Cross course in junior life saving, took over after other people at the pool had tried to apply artificial respiration in an incorrect manner. His knowledge of the proper way to use artificial respiration and his prompt action was credited with saving the Smith boy's life.

Mrs. William Harris, Fred's mother, said she is grateful to the local chapter of the Red Cross for making "this type of training" (life saving techniques) available to young people.

TAX LIST

Los Angeles County's delinquent tax list will again be published in community newspapers this year, Board of Supervisors Chairman F. G. Bonelli said. This was decided by action of the Board, authorizing the chief administrative office to arrange for the publication on a breakdown basis.

LIBRARY CLOSED

The Sierra Madre Public Library will be closed all day Monday, Feb. 23, Washington's birthday.

NEW OFFICERS of the Sierra Madre Democratic Club were selected recently at a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Newell Barrett. They are, from left, G. Norman Kennedy, vice president; Mrs. Lenore Barrett, recording secretary; Mrs. Margaret Lathe, executive secretary; Mrs. Margaret Nash, treasurer; Thomas Lathe, corresponding secretary, and Ken Moyer, president. Officers have one-year terms.

Anyone for Television?

One of my pet peeves these days is television, and thus I've joined the army of intellectuals, phony and otherwise, who cry for the "good old days" of radio, music and literature as the more valuable stimulants of mind and emotion.

Not that I particularly dislike the TV producers, writers or even the twangy Uncle Luthers who jam the video waves with undiluted corn. Instead, I'm beginning to hate myself.

TV has taught me some unpleasant facts about my character.

UNLIKE THE debonair but tough Will Paladin, I never could look a person straight in the eye without the most serious inward palpitations. In addition, I find that I'm neither debonair nor tough—simply insecure and a little timid. The sight of a gun aimed at me in anger would cause me to blubber for mercy and, frankly, I can't outstare Donald Duck.

Peter Gunn, everybody tells me, is a vastly amusing, slightly satiric account of a private eye in action. The musical background, I'm led to understand, represents the finest in modern jazz.

Well, I'd prefer my jazz without the incredible nonchalance of Mr. Gunn. The sight of a corpse thumping on a barroom floor would send me screaming to the nearest gendarme. Not so Peter Gunn and associates whose calm acceptance of bullet-riddled, stabbed, garroted and water-logged bodies would make the late Uncle Joe pale with envy.

ANOTHER STERLING character heads the household of the "Father Knows Best" series, a program much revered by the viewing public. Personally, I hate Father. He makes me feel unwashed, dirty behind the ears, unshaven and slovenly.

When lounging about the house, Father is always immaculate, attired in a suit coat, a smoking jacket or one of those Ivy League type things with leather patches on each elbow.

I have a coat with leather patched elbows, too, but in my case the patches are there simply to hide two large holes. A similar thing happens to me sometimes when I buy a new pair of shoes.

THE TV character I most detest, though, is the man who is neither fish nor fowl, engineer nor pianist, business tycoon nor pugilist. He's all these things and more. He's the Thinking Man and, more important, the Smoking Man. In short, he's the Thinking Man who smokes the Thinking Man's smoke.

Now I've been trying to stop smoking for 10 years, but the Thinking Man tells me I'm not thinking so good if I don't smoke his particular brand. All of which makes me think I'm not much of a thinker.

See what TV has done to me?

MY SET emits its frustrating message from early morning to late at night. I no longer have the courage to make my kids turn the blasted thing off at dinner time, let alone breakfast and lunch.

In the evening, when I should be following more worthwhile pursuits, such as a perusal of the latest Ellery Queen mystery story, the hypnotic effect of a towering Matt Dillon is too much for my puny will power to withstand.

One of these days I'm going to saw the antenna off the roof and become a human being again instead of the incoherent simian TV has made of me.

But until that time . . . I wonder what's on the late, late movie tonight?—H.W.E.

The Risk in Moderation

Researchers interested in the problem of alcoholism are spending many long hours trying to discover what causes an individual to become a compulsive drinker.

More case histories of alcoholics are needed, it is agreed. At present no one can determine accurately who among the so-called moderate drinkers will be the next "statistic" to fall prey to the problem of alcoholism. Figures show that one out of every 15 drinkers acquires the habit in a compulsive form. This has some relevance, surely, to the statement of a prominent churchman at a brewers' convention that moderation in drinking is "true temperance."

It is obvious that no one ever became an alcoholic who did not drink. But who is to say when a would-be moderate drinker has passed the point of no return in his drinking?

One of the problems with which industry finds it must cope in connection with the compulsive drinker employee is his insistence that he is not an alcoholic, that he can handle his own problem, and that he can hold his liquor.

The clergyman, welfare worker, or parent who becomes truly informed about the risk involved in moderation will be more wise in giving advice about that first drink, whether it be the so-called "beverage of moderation," the social cocktail, or the mealtime toast.—(Reprinted from the Christian Science Monitor.)

Letters to the Editor

THE YOUNG SELL

Dear Sir, Middlemen, middlemen. We are spawning a new generation of brighteyed, unspurring, callous-less, army of non-producing little business people. With a pat on the head, a book full of tickets, and no change in their pockets, legions of small folk are being released at each street corner to attack the citizens of Sierra Madre.

This age of The Young Sell is growing all over the country—in the name of sweet charity. It is being perpetuated by supposed adults, obviously with a good deal of leisure on their hands, because such organization and planning is certainly beyond the imaginative mental level of the little fingers that poke the nation's doorbells.

WE JUST recently got the Peanut Drive out of the way and tonight in the period of 20 minutes we were asked by a breathless young saleslady to visit six gardens around town, "donation one dollar," followed by a young man selling magazines for one of the local churches.

After settling back to the paper and some music, the radio announcer notifies us that the annual Cookie Drive is being launched next week and that "when the little ladies ring your doorbell buy all you need; in fact, buy more than you need," because he crooned, "it's for a very worthy cause."

The Worthy Cause, as far as I have been able to determine, is to finance the nationwide campaign that they have in store for us next year. Sometimes we are offered something for our donation, more often we are not. The point is this, begging, whether it's for the PTA Carnival, Football Circus, or one of the perennial automobile raffles around town, it is still an adult-organized, child-executed con game. And these innocent social workers are being denied the privilege of ever learning the meaning of honest industry—or charity.

SHOWING AN outstretched palm at same grownup clod who works for a living does not take any effort.

What's wrong with the Girl Scouts baking their own damn cookies?

Thank you,
EL BURRO.

OUT OF THE COBWEBS

43 YEARS AGO, Feb. 18, 1916—The best creamery butter was selling in the store owned by S. R. Norris for 38 cents a pound.

City Marshall Harvey Steinberger warned that "it will go hard with anyone" found guilty of poisoning dogs in Sierra Madre.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Frick of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, were guests of Dr. and Mrs. L. L. Krebs.

20 YEARS AGO, Feb. 17, 1939—"Tree of Liberty," a novel by Elizabeth Page, 153 S. Hermosa, was chosen as the Literary Guild selection for March, and the movie rights were sold to Columbia Pictures.

FOR SALE—Frame stucco, living room, dining room, kitchen, service porch, two bedrooms, bath, patio. Close to schools and shopping center. Lawn, shrubs, etc. Bargain, $2,800. Terms. N.M.

THE TRAGEDY

The tragedy is that these young salesmen don't even know the difference. I can't help but wonder how many of them are going to feel like working for their living after a whole childhood of tasting the fruits of the organized, Worthy Cause "easy buck" trail. By 1970 there won't be any ears running off the assembly lines—everybody will be too busy selling on them.

The first unorganized young fellow that wheels a lawnmower down my drive and tells me he wants to earn some money to put a new roof on his treehouse, or help a needy family, or just go to the show, has got himself a job.

Signed,
E. KERSTING COURT

OVERBURDENED

The muddy situation about repairing Fairview Ave. is bubbling again.

Once more a petition is being circulated to have the street properly repaired. This time it would be according to the original intentions of the city administrator, viz., charge the whole cost to the overly burdened taxpayers, who have to make every penny count in order to make up for the wasteful practices by some officials here and there, and practically everywhere.

Mr. Bevington's first attempt to do so was quickly knocked for a loop.

Sometimes later than when this project was initiated, and this goes back a few years, Mr. Louk, Mr. James and others sincerely offered and tried to get gasoline funds from the county, since this street was wrecked by the heavy equipment used, particularly during the construction of the water catch basin.

These gentlemen's efforts were not successful. The tax load, for many of us, is simply pitiful.

Would the city lawyer please give us his opinion of the following?

We have been informed since the city has performed maintenance work on our street, the city itself owns said street and, therefore, the residents on this avenue have no obligation whatsoever toward any cost for the same in any form or manner.

Thank you,
EL BURRO.

Lee Shippey asks

What Do You Think?

I think Congress should take time out from bore-some discussions of the budget, foreign policy, integration, labor and subsidies to farmers and oil field developers—which never seem to get too satisfactory results, anyway—in order to vote special medals to two brand new heroes, the Los Angeles man and the Las Vegas man who have established a new world's record by keeping their plane flying continuously for 65 days.

Just think what that historic achievement means to humanity! Think of the discomfort and sacrifice involved in winning that distinction for America! I think of the determination and endurance and grim, noble suffering it must have cost those men to be so long away from their families and mother-in-law, not to mention proper meals and sleep, as each had to relieve the other every four hours to keep their Cessna flying! And think what they proved about the possibilities of interplanetary flight! When even a comparatively small and ordinary plane can fly for 65 days one cannot help thinking about those two heroes, in a more adequate plane, might fly off to worlds now known only to astronomers. In fact, one wonders why they don't do it.

To my mind, they certainly should be recognized as our men of the year in their field, and each deserves a solid tin medal for the most useless achievement of the year.

IT ALWAYS amuses me when Mr. Dulles or the President or some congressman who hates the mere mention of socialized medicine gets sick and immediately pops into a government-owned hospital.

ONE YOUNG matron you probably know thinks she has found the recipe for happy domestic life. She lets her husband manage all the family finances, while all she manages is the husband.

I BELIEVE in unemployment compensation but I don't believe in making it high enough to make some persons prefer never to work again.

I'M AMUSED by some of the persons I hear denouncing juvenile delinquency. I can remember when some of them did their darndest to be delinquents themselves. In fact, I'm not dead sure some of them couldn't say the same about me.

I CAN also remember when the smog experts assured us that within two years smog would be banished. That was six years ago.

NOW ONE can fly from Los Angeles to New York in four and one-half hours. But what of it? Press the wrong button and one can fly from here to eternity in one second, if speed is what we want.

Around the Square

By Tommy Ann Miller

Tried calling UL 3-1212 lately?

You can't even get the time of day anymore without audio-brainwashing. The telephone company time service now has a bank for a sponsor—although current phone bills (government excise tax notwithstanding) would indicate it's already sufficiently sponsored.

Auto-Cron has manufactured around 500 similar devices in use throughout the country—90 percent are leased to financial institutions. The scheme reportedly hatched in eastern states during the 20's—creeping to Sierra Madre by January, 1959.

The bank ads cover everything from auto loans to traveler's checks—with "attend church regularly" thrown in for spiritual uplift. It works this way: you dial, and a well-modulated voice (male) first puts in a plug for the bank and then gives the time—recorded, naturally (so you're helpless to protest), i.e.:

"Free parking furnished while banking at the friendly Blankety Blank Bank. The time, 2:23."

Or this one:

"Want something? (yes, yes)—the time! then SAVE for it (save for a reliable clock) at B B Bank. The time, 2:24."

When the bank's five-year sponsorship lease expires, who knows but what Bat Guano will be next to pick up the time (2:25) tab.

VIVA VALENTINE!

Lola Rudbach was everybody's Valentine at a Saturday night birthday dinner in her honor—prepared by Pat Wilcox and attended by 16 hearts.

FRIDAY THE 13th was indeed for Patty Mitchell, 7-year old daughter of the Emmett R. Mitchells. She tried walking through a plate glass door at Toy Patio Village. Miraculously enough, she walked off with just a big bump on the head and an assortment of small, easily-patchable cuts.

Seems as though the door had just been washed and you know how that is when Patty decided to dart out—doors—the hard way—completely shattering the glass.

(HOW SAY you, Acrid?)

SOUSED SHEETS. Pity the poor lowland school (just a drop out of town) whose paper drive coincided with the storm—resulting in teetering mountains of wet, soggy papers. (Should bring a higher price, weightwise—due to aqueous absorption, no?)

GOOD TO SEE shoe repairman, Cam Gutierrez, up and cobbling—after his two recent surgical skirmishes.

HELICOPTER HOUND.

"Toughy," Search and Rescue tracking blood-hound (who has logged quite a few helicopter hours), rated 2½ columns—plus two pictures with local Helitak crew members—in Monday's "Times." (Houndish publicity.)

GEORGE TYREE will be one of the vocal participants in the Music-Arts annual public concert (free!) at the Pasadena Public Library, tomorrow night. Gustav Rihard will accompany George when he sings Athay's "Beside the River"—a song cycle inspired by ancient Chinese poems.

COUNCIL IN CUPS. Who has the tin cup concession for the City Hall Council Chambers? And how is it that the cups, which serve as ashtrays, are tenderly engraved "Baby" (?)

ALTHOUGH LIBRARY movie-goers could have launched their own rafts in rain-swollen gutters, there was a standing-room-only turn-out for both showings of the film, "Kon-Tiki"—capably projected (according to Mercator) by George Black.

Old Line Politicos No Friend of Rockefeller

By Robert G. Spivack

ROCKEFELLER'S FIRST MISTAKE

—Unlike the governors of Indiana or Wyoming or New Hampshire, the Governor of New York is always in the limelight. If he does something big, by the time the newspapers are finished with it the event may look bigger. If he does something wrong, or ineptly, the error seems inevitably to be compounded.

If he pronounces radio as "raadio," in the manner of Al Smith it becomes a subject of national comment. If he maintains a home at Hyde Park, like FDR did, he becomes known as the "Squire of Dutchess County." If he is cocksure like Thomas E. Dewey, then everybody enjoys seeing him humbled.

Nelson A. Rockefeller is now undergoing the rigors of life in Albany and every move he makes becomes a topic of animated conversation at the dinner table or at the cocktail lounge. Unlike Averell Harriman, who left many people cold, Rockefeller's is a warm personality and many people, even some of his political critics, tend to give him the benefit of their doubts.

By VIRTUE of his position, notwithstanding all his disclaimers, Rockefeller is viewed as a likely Republican candidate for President. Therefore each move that he makes is examined not only for its effects on New Yorkers, but also for its effects on his possible candidacy. It is against this background, therefore, that his new state tax proposals must be examined. They come at a strange time for a Republican. Here is the Republican President of the U. S., after giving the nation its biggest peacetime budgets, talking about frugality. On Capitol Hill there are demagogues in both parties who are even talking about "tax cuts," despite private bills which would increase the cost of government, countless millions.

Many voters in New York undoubtedly voted for Rockefeller because they believed that corrupt Tammany politicians had too much to say under his predecessor's administration.

THE TROUBLE IN NEW YORK

—The State of New York and the ICY of New York are both experiencing financial difficulties. They result from a combination of factors: failure to plan, resistance to change by business interests, shifting population, and lack of leadership, to name but a few. But on top of all these—and I write as one who has covered New York politics for many years—is the tremendous corruption of local politicians in both major parties.

Under the circumstances these days the cost of government is bound to be high. But political corruption in New York has sent it skyrocketing. If New Yorkers have any doubts about how much they are paying for graft and inefficiency, they might take a bus up and down the Av. of Americas and see how streets are ripped up for repaving. Then between the U.S.S.R. and Red China heavily favor the Muscovites. Peking wants to change all this. Russia probably will offer minor concessions. This might develop into an extremely touchy issue, further widening the gap that separates the two Commie nations.

FINALLY, RED CHINA wants to talk about the most ticklish question of all—Russian commitments to supply guns, tanks, planes and missiles for the Chinese military juggernaut. Information that is trickling into the West from behind the Bamboo Curtain reveals that Russia is dragging her feet on her promises of military supplies. Red Chinese bigwigs are showing considerable impatience and some suspicion and are ready for a showdown on this important issue.

Maybe to offset some of the rough edges that have developed, Russia will supply a "Chinese Sputnik" to be launched from Sinkiang Province this year in celebration of Red China's tenth birthday. In contrast to the conference discussed above, you'll hear plenty about this. The usual hysteria chorus will shout that Red China is catching up with us, etc.

Starving Seagulls Forgotten How to Fish

From The Okaloosa News-Journal, Crestview Florida:

The great American tragedy lies in our failure to see the signs of moral decay that surround us. Thus writes Dr. Louis Finkelstein, distinguished scholar, theologian and biologist. These signs, he adds, "are apparent in the vulgar ostentation all around us, in the sexual laxity revealed by the Kinsey studies, in the demoralization of American captives in the Korean war, in the widespread defiance of the law."

Finkelstein believes it is the primary responsibility of the businessman to "put ethics on the agenda."

The businessman, he says, is necessarily the leading citizen in an industrial society. His morals and attitudes pervade our life.

He must have values in life "above profit or economic security."

Can the spread of moral dry-rot be stopped and the sorry trend reversed?

Businessmen alone cannot provide the whole answer. The disease is found in labor, government, everywhere.

And it is deadly.

From The Catskill Mountain Star, Saugerties, N.Y.:

One of our rags to riches businessmen in the country is Gerhard Mennen, that migrant boy who started peddling his talcum powder from door to door in Hoboken about the turn of the century.

ground, therefore, that his new state tax proposals must be examined. They come at a strange time for a Republican. Here is the Republican President of the U. S., after giving the nation its biggest peacetime budgets, talking about frugality. On Capitol Hill there are demagogues in both parties who are even talking about "tax cuts," despite private bills which would increase the cost of government, countless millions.

Many voters in New York undoubtedly voted for Rockefeller because they believed that corrupt Tammany politicians had too much to say under his predecessor's administration.

Under the circumstances these days the cost of government is bound to be high. But political corruption in New York has sent it skyrocketing. If New Yorkers have any doubts about how much they are paying for graft and inefficiency, they might take a bus up and down the Av. of Americas and see how streets are ripped up for repaving. Then between the U.S.S.R. and Red China heavily favor the Muscovites. Peking wants to change all this. Russia probably will offer minor concessions. This might develop into an extremely touchy issue, further widening the gap that separates the two Commie nations.

sticks which did not exist. All there is, he believed, was matter and energy. And there are, in a sense, events, but not time.

In short, with the present limitations on the way we think, and with the present mechanical concepts we have, we are unable to understand the mysteries of the universe—not because they are not understandable but because our thought concepts and processes are not in line with reality and the ultimate truth.

From The Armstrong Herald, Armstrong, Mo.:

The early American magazine tells of the sad plight of the seagulls of St. Augustine, Florida, which, according to report, "are starving to death in the midst of plenty, because they have forgotten how to fish."

The gulls used to live on the waste from the local shrimp fleet. They didn't have to catch fish—or teach their young the techniques of fishing. Then the shrimp fleet moved away to Key West and paradise was lost. The Early American says: "A few of the birds had the intuition to follow the fleet. A few more were enterprising enough, or had enough instinct left, to take to the sea once more. But many of them can be seen sitting sadly where they were left, starving to death because no one will bring them shrimp, while out in the Gulf there is a sea food for the taking."

Freshness and Vigor Mark Rutzebeck Book

By Edward Voorhees

MAD SAILORS, MAD SEA. The Life and Loves of a Windjammer Sailer, Greenberg Publishers, N.Y., $5.75.

Now in his mid-60s, Hjalmar Rutzebeck is one of the few American authors alive today who can write from first-hand experience of life aboard the square-rigged sail freighters popularly known as "windjammers."

In "Mad Sea," just acquired by the Sierra Madre Public Library, Rutzebeck's five books published to date have come directly out of his personal experience, heightened by a vivid imagination drawing on a faithful memory. Although not always published, or written, in the time-order in which their action was lived, each book is based on one distinct period of the author's life.

"Mad Sea" begins when Sven Norman—as the author calls himself in the text—runs away from his home in Copenhagen, at age 13, to the docks, where he manages to hide himself on the windjammer "Godthaab" until she is well out to sea. Large for his age, Sven convinces the Captain that he is 15 and is set to work as a deck boy, which he soon finds out is not all beer and skittles.

WRITING in short sentences, with much terse dialogue, his vocabulary—sharp as etching—suits exactly his rough and tough subject matter. A genteel reader may be shocked by some of the language in the conversations, and indeed by more than one of the episodes portrayed, but it is highly improbable that any "old salt" would challenge the authenticity of either.

All of Rutzebeck's five books published to date have come directly out of his personal experience, heightened by a vivid imagination drawing on a faithful memory. Although not always published, or written, in the time-order in which their action was lived, each book is based on one distinct period of the author's life.

"Mad Sea" begins when Sven Norman—as the author calls himself in the text—runs away from his home in Copenhagen, at age 13, to the docks, where he manages to hide himself on the windjammer "Godthaab" until she is well out to sea. Large for his age, Sven convinces the Captain that he is 15 and is set to work as a deck boy, which he soon finds out is not all beer and skittles.

IN THE winter seas between Denmark and Greenland, his existence is a daily test of survival against water, ice and wind, the danger doubled by the brutal abuse of his immediate boss, Christian, the "mad boss," whose violent hatred for the boy becomes a sadistic determination to kill him. Despite Sven's size, his strong legs, massive shoulders and hands, and his nimble feet—when he is not sea-sick—his spirit is almost beaten out of him by the treacherous blows and foul curses of the boss.

But one moonless night during a great gale off Greenland, when the boss sends the boy aloft to shorten sail and then follows him up to the high yardarm, with curses and murder in his heart, they have their last clash—fatal for the boss and all but fatal for Sven.

Other voyages follow on other windjammers. On one of three around the Horn he is washed off the deck during a storm at night, and for two weeks, thanks to the spring season, he is able to survive on shell fish and seabirds' eggs until sighted and taken off by a chance vessel in passage.

Between voyages he has exciting short periods ashore on the west coast of both South and North America.

HIS ADVENTURES are amusing, pugnacious and amorous by turns—but never dull. He lives with a gargantuan appetite for new experiences and waxes strong upon them.

He learns what not to do or say when thrown into traveling company with the "wobblers" (the I.W.W.'s); he finds out what it means to be "shanghaied," and he ships on a craft wherein the cargo is top-secret stuff about which "nobody knows nothin'" of what is below decks being smuggled to London; he does his share at clearing the congested areas in more than one barroom brawl; he has a chance to test the nature of the hot doldrums in the Sargasso Sea; and once on shore leave in Cardiff he has a strange and romantic adventure which he labels "blind heaven" and which reads like some of the silkier episodes out of the "Arabian Nights." These are some of the highlights of a turbulent adolescence and young manhood.

ABOUT THE TIME Sven enters his 20s he jumps ship for good, off the English windjammer "Chatham" at San Diego's Terminal Island. He is through with the sea—forever?

Meanwhile, his adventures continue on land along the American Pacific Coast, from Alaska to Ensenada. He joins the U.S. Army and continues to fight to maintain his freedom of spirit and love of fair play, while trying to live under discipline, not always with easy success.

There is plenty of adventure in "Sailor With a Gun" (1957) had during this period; likewise in his later experiences chronicled in "Alaska Man's Luck" and "My Alaskan Idyll," and adventure of a different kind in "Hell's Paradise," recounting the manner in which he joined forces to deal with the problems of the Great Depression when it struck California.

HOW TO WIN AD-RIME PRIZES

guideline: "Deal With Firms You Know and Trust." The arrow points to the Ad-RIME lines must tie in and rhyme with the Guideline. Your entry MUST carry the "Hidden Slogan." Find it among the ads—one word in each column starting at the left. You don't have to buy anything to win prizes but MUST find and write the hidden Slogan. Preference is given to AD-RIME lines that tie in well and BOOST LOCAL TRADE. Get the swing—the two lines are a "jingle." One which can't win is: This Should Always Be a Must. but you must write original ones. Good luck — and keep trying.

Junior League Players
Present Production Feb. 23

Pasadena Junior League Players will make their third appearance in Sierra Madre, under the sponsorship of Community Friendship Club, Feb. 23 at 2 p.m. in Pritchard Hall at Sierra Madre Congregational Church.

This western melodrama, "Lily of Tombstone" or "The Triumph of Virtue" is complete with dastardly villain and upright hero and is being played to various senior citizen groups in San Gabriel Valley.

The production, written by Ruth Haggin Cole and directed by Jay Justin, is under the chairmanship of Mrs. John Shirley Ward Jr., who is assisted by Mrs. Raymond Hester, choreographer, and Mrs. F. Daniel Frost, manager.

Leading parts are being taken by Mrs. Frost, Mrs. George Jagels, Mrs. Andrew R. Edwards Jr., Mrs. Theodore H. Willis, Mrs. James S. Lockhead, Mrs. Gerald C. Smith, Mrs. Robert H. Cowgill, Mrs. William R. Hees and Mrs. John Bacon Leasure.

Last year's "Barbershop

Quartet" will be heard as a "Housemaid's Quartet."

Mrs. Etta Lequin, Friendship Club vice president, will be hostess for the production and tea to follow. Everyone is invited to attend the event.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Sierra Madre Woman's Club will have its monthly tea meeting Feb. 25 at 2 p.m. in the clubhouse.

Mrs. Franklin A. Franco will preside at the business meeting and Mrs. Henry N. Wade Sr. will be tea hostess. Speaker for the day will be Ralph J. Hallman, lecturer and philosopher, who will discuss "Festivals and Ceremonies."

MAINE ASSOCIATION

Pasadena State of Maine Association has scheduled its baked bean dinner Feb. 21 at 6:45 in Altadena Masonic Temple, 922 E. Mendocino St. The official film of 1959 Tournament of Roses Parade will be shown. Tourists and former residents of Maine are invited to attend. For further information call Mrs. Verne Kelsey at SYcamore 4-6616.

SIERRA MADRE DAR

The Sierra Madre Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will have its regular monthly meeting Feb. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the Park House. Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. James Greer and Mrs. Walter Gardner.

Mrs. Al S. Myers, regent, will preside. Mrs. Hazel Hyde, president of Zia Indian Project, with headquarters in Pasadena, will speak on Indian affairs and craftsmanship. The month of February is American History Month and is celebrated by all DAR chapters in some form. A member who is a Mayflower descendant will read excerpts from the history of her family and of the founding of the first colony.

Among those Sierra Madre members driving to Palm Springs last week to attend the annual birthday luncheon of Cahuilla Chapter were Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Archer Frey, vice regent; Mrs. Greer, Mrs. Glen Van Niy and Mrs. Thomas Bailey.

ALA Unit 297 Celebrates 34th Anniversary at Party

American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 297, will meet Feb. 26 in the home of Mrs. Ora Olsen, 353 N. Auburn, at 8 p.m.

Many charter members, past presidents, district officers and unit presidents were in attendance at the local unit's 34th birthday anniversary party held last week in the Clarence Noshier home, 265 N. Mountain Trail.

Mrs. Dorothea Helms, 18th District president, extended birthday greetings to the unit and letters from absent charter members and past presidents were read in answer to the honor roll call. Mrs. Maybelle Barker, historian, read highlights from an old unit scrapbook covering the years 1929 through 1933.

Abraham Lincoln's 150th birthday anniversary was commemorated by patriotic decorations on the tables and rostrum and by the reading of historic anecdotes.

Charter members and past presidents in attendance were Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Mabel Medley of Glendale, Mrs. Ora Olsen, Mrs. Leila Embree, Mrs. Ornelia Henderson, Mrs. Minnie Stinman, Mrs. Kitty Miller, Mrs. Rose Calkin, Mrs. Edna Faller, Mrs. Bernadine Bent, Mrs.

Helen Wheeler, Mrs. Thelma Proctor and Mrs. Lucille Pickett, all of the local unit; Mrs. Elise Hadlock, past president of Ithaca, Mich., and Mrs. Claire Larsen, past president of Rawlins, Wyo.

District officers and guests included Mrs. Helm of Pomona, Mrs. Jean Remick of Pasadena, first vice president; Mrs. Dora Butler of El Monte, second vice president; Mrs. Lucille Bartlett of Claremont, treasurer; Mrs. Elizabeth Conn of El Monte, visiting chairman; Mrs. Maude Davis, president of Claremont unit; Mrs. Glee Lee, president of El Monte unit; Comrade Ed Bartlett, Legionaire, Claremont Post; and Helen Henry of El Monte unit.

Visitors at the occasion were Emily Cinkel of West Covina, Nancy Milton of Altadena, and Mary Light and Mrs. Noshier of Sierra Madre.

Valentine Party Hosted By Local Girls

Martha Cason and Melissa Nash were co-hostesses at a Valentine party last Saturday night in the home of Martha's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mac A. Cason, 462 Manzanita.

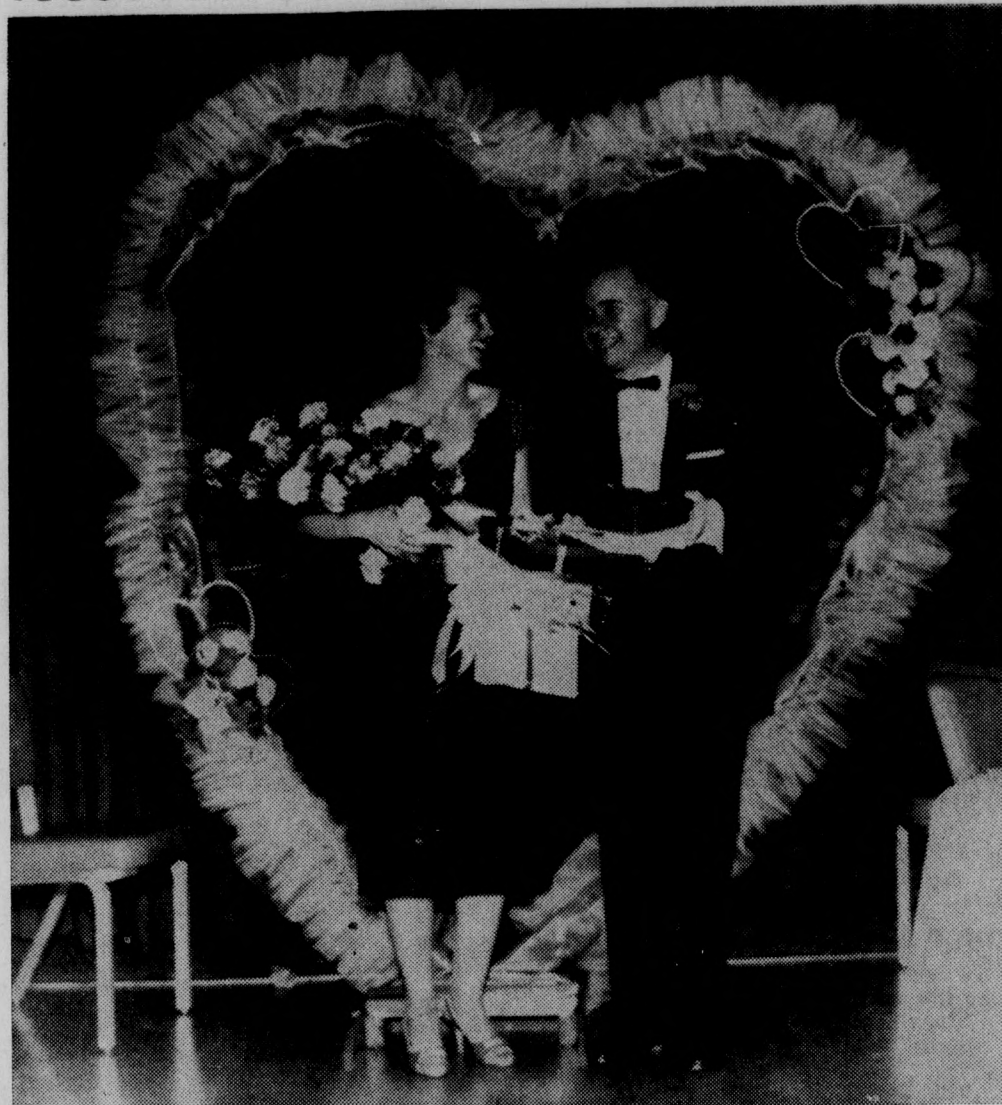

Among those arriving to take part in the games and square dancing were Sandy Custer, Paula Bryant, Penny Ward, Penny Schoenmehl, Amy Uyematsu, Sally Smith, Jan Conzelman, Jan Horswell, Judy Nordyke and Lauren Davidson.

Also, Vicki Patosa, Alison Weir, Kristan Brown, Doris Poff, Patricia Jay, Dick Polanshek, Greg Butler, Ted Lightheiser, Richard Shackelford, Steven and Ronald Albu, Chris Gordon and Sammy Schwartz.

Also, Barney Barnes, Dick Hammers, Greg Hoffman, Doug Mathison, Hugh Forbes, Malcolm Roane, Leon Moses, Jimmy Berry, Frank Graham and Billy Milford.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William H. Estes, 159 W. Montecito. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacDonald of Covina. The other MacDonald daughter is Vicki Lynn.

Allison Weir Feted at Party

Amy Uyematsu, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis G. Uyematsu, 475 Fairview, was hostess at a dinner party honoring Allison Weir who, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Morley Weir, will make her home in Nutsley, N.J.

The young ladies at the party were Penny Ward and Judy Nordyke.

Mrs. Batchelor Attends Meeting

Mrs. Lemore Batchelor, who teaches fourth grade in the Sierra Mesa School, represented the district at the eighth annual Midyear Conference on Good Teaching, sponsored by the California Teachers Association, Southern Section, and several of its affiliates.

The conference, held at the University of Southern California, had as its theme, "Quality Teaching in Our Schools."

Principal speakers at the conference were Dr. Arthur F. Corey, executive secretary, California Teachers Association, and Dr. Frederick Mayer, professor of philosophy, Redlands University.

Local Residents at Nixon Luncheon

Sierra Madre Republican Club was represented at the Nixon luncheon, held last Monday at the Statler Hilton Hotel by Frank Parks, president, and Mrs. Robert deWeese, vice president.

Also in attendance were Franklin A. Franco, Mrs. Mac Cason, Mr. and Mrs. Claude H. Brown Jr., and Mrs. Nathaniel Van De Verg.

Margaret Carter Attends Elmhurst

Margaret Carter, daughter of Mrs. Gladys K. Carter, 666 Mt. Wilson Trail, and Paul Carter of Chicago, Ill., has been accepted as a second semester student at Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill.

Miss Carter graduated from Pasadena High School last June.

CHARTER HEARING

Public hearing by the Board of Supervisors on a list of recommendations for revision of the county charter submitted by a citizen's study committee will be held on Thursday, April 9, at 9:30 a.m., Board Chairman Frank G. Bonelli said yesterday.

Congregational Church Opens Prayer Chapel

The Board of Deacons and Deaconesses of the Congregational Church have announced that Campbell Chapel, in the north transept of the church, is now open daily for private prayer and meditation.

The chapel, named for Dr. James Campbell, former pastor of the church, will be open daily, from dawn to dark. Individual families of the church school will keep fresh flowers on the altar.

The Chapel is located on the Sierra Madre Blvd. side of the church.

Fortnighters to Continue Talks on Child's Questions

The Fortnighters, a adult discussion group at the Congregational Church, will continue talks on "How shall I answer my children's questions on the Bible?" when they meet this Friday evening.

The meeting is open to all, but parents of grade school children are especially invited. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pogue, 10 E. Miramonte, will be hosts to the group, which will meet at 8 p.m.

Ascension Study Group to Meet

The Lenten study group of the Church of the Ascension will meet Friday, Feb. 20, for Corporate Communion, breakfast, and continued discussion of "Christian Forgiveness" under the direction of the Rev. Harley G. Smith, Jr.

Mass is at 9 a.m., followed by the meeting in the Parish Hall. This week's topic will be "Forgiveness as Taught by Christ."

The Station of the Cross will be held in the Church Friday, Feb. 20, at 7:30 p.m.

The Young People's Fellowship will meet in the Parish Hall Sunday, Feb. 22, at 7:30 p.m.

Their Lenten study and discussion, under the direction of the Rev. Harlan I. Weitzel, will be continued.

RECEIVING ONE OF Scouting's highest awards is Gary Glaser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron B. Glaser, at Temple Beth Israel. The medal, symbolizing Israel's eternal zeal in the service of God, is being presented by George Black, scoutmaster of Troop 373, while Rabbi Charles W. Steckel looks on.

Corporate Communion Plans Made

The men and boys from all Episcopal parishes and missions in Southern California will assemble at three centrally located churches Saturday (Feb. 21) for the Washington's Birthday Corporate Communion for Men and Boys, an annual observance in the Episcopal Church.

The corporate services will be held simultaneously at 9 a.m. in the central, southern and northern areas of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles. The three churches will be St. Paul's Cathedral, Figueroa at Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles; St. Paul's Church, 2729 Fifth Ave., San Diego, and Grace Church, Colton.

Power of Spoken Word Is Topic At Area Church

"You Can Help Others" will be the subject of Dr. Ethel Barnhardt's 9:15 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday, Feb. 22, at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead.

In her talk, Dr. Barnhardt will use the Bible reference, Matthew 8: 5-13, the healing of the Centurion, as an example of Jesus' use of the power of the spoken word.

Members of the 1959 Board of Directors elected at the annual membership and business meeting are Ethel Barnhardt, minister and director; Jack E. Wells, president; Dr. Charles Bish, vice president; G. I. Farman, treasurer; Alice McCaslin, secretary; E. L. Phillips, John W. Henry, Adela Rogers St. Johns. Newly elected members are Grisby B. Jackson and William O. Christian.

Sermon: 'Lost Battle of Faith'

The story of a battle of faith which the Lord was happy to lose to a mother will be told in the sermon by the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor of Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church, 33 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., at 10 a. m. Sunday, Feb. 22.

The sermon, "The Fallen Crumbs," is based on Matthew 15:21-28, which is the Gospel for the second Sunday in Lent. The Biblical account of Jesus healing the mother's daughter will be applied to life today, the pastor said, when we need a faith as persistent and as strong as this woman's.

Next Sunday's worship will be conducted in the lodge at the Masonic Temple, while the Masons serve a Washington's birthday breakfast in the hall downstairs. Sunday school at 9 a.m. also will be in the lodge rooms.

This is a rare opportunity for us to return once again to an upper room," the pastor commented.

The church began in the fall of 1957 in the upper room of the Woman's Clubhouse. It moved to larger facilities in the Masonic Temple in September, 1958.

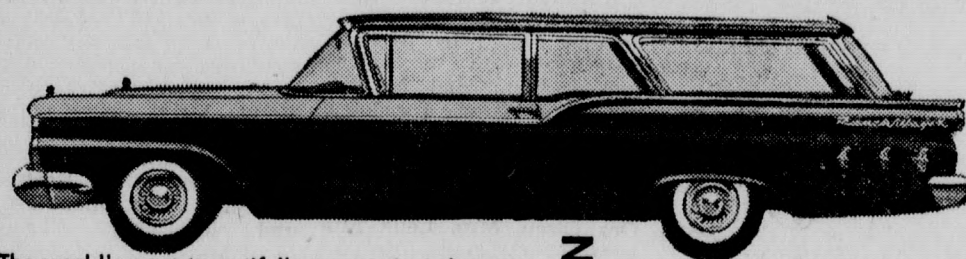

The evening Lenten services will continue at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 25, with the color pictures and sermon, "Pray With Him." The pastor's class for members and newcomers follows.

Mrs. Steckel Is Speaker at Adult Class Lecture

The Adult Class of the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel will meet this Tuesday, Feb. 24, at 8:15 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Glesby, 3830 Greenhill Rd., Pasadena.

The topic will be "Jewish Impact on American Literature." Mrs. Ilona Steckel, wife of Rabbi Steckel, will lecture and answer questions later during the open discussion period.

Rabbi Steckel is the leader and organizer of this group which meets twice a month to discuss parts of the Bible and current topics.

Good Youth Program Depends on Strong Support

By Elena C. Brown

With the presence of brownie, intermediate and senior scouts in uniform all over Sierra Madre, selling their cookies and Garden Tour tickets, some thought should be given to those who stand behind these scouts.

The value of a good Girl Scout program depends as much on good, trained adult leadership and strong parental support as it does on the membership of the girls who are scouts.

Too often this leadership goes unrecognized or is unknown by the community. Sierra Madre has a very strong and active Girl Scout program which reaches about 200 girls between the second and 12th grades. Leading these girls are some 37 leaders and assistants plus troop committee members, who devote countless hours of time and endless energies and talents to their troops. These are not professionals—merely volunteers who realize the worth of good youth organizations.

Working constantly with the adult leaders to insure proper training, good leadership and well planned troop programs are Mrs. James Winslow, neighborhood chairman; Mrs. Walter Goodwin, troop organizer, and Mrs. Milton Valois, troop consultant.

Also working on the council level are Mrs. William Maloney, a 25-year member; Mrs. William Hippenstiel, Mrs. Herbert Hargrave and James Abernethy.

Sierra Madre is indeed fortunate that it has so many adults and youngsters who are taking active part—not only in Girl Scouts, but also in Campfire Girls, Boy Scouts and Indian Guides.

THIRD GRADE brownies of Troop 505 joined with two Brownie troops from La Canada on Feb. 12 for a cook-out at Camp Miraposa, Pasadena area Girl Scout day camp in Altadena.

DICKENS FELLOWSHIP
Dickens Fellowship will meet Feb. 19 at 1:45 p.m. in the home of Mrs. May Vilt, 560 W. Sierra Madre Blvd. Mrs. Trula Sewall and Mrs. Lolita Osborn will read "Danby and Son."

PHI MU SORORITY
To honor the 107th anniversary of the founding of Phi Mu Sorority, Southern California area alumnae will meet at the Beverly Hilton Hotel Feb. 28.

Pasadena area alumnae will host the event which begins at 11 a. m. with a fellowship hour in the lounge followed by luncheon in the main ballroom at tables decorated in signs of the Zodiac. As is the custom, each member will contribute one penny for each of the fraternity's years. This money is put into the scholarship fund.

Invitations have been sent to mothers, daughters and sisters of members and in keeping with accepted tradition, there will be an open founders' day service presented by members of the University of California at Los Angeles Chapter.

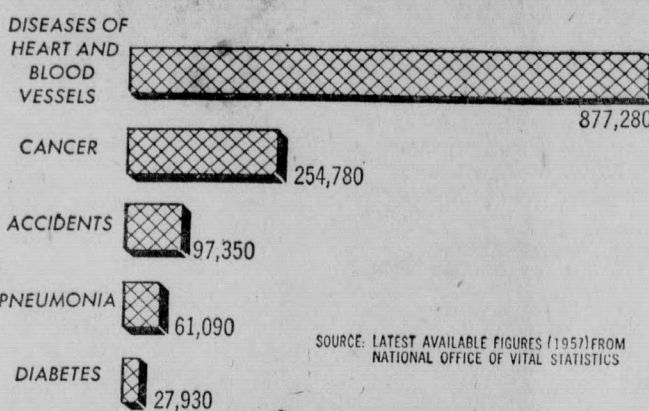

SHAKESPEARE CLUB
Mrs. Jack F. Parich, director of American Home Department of Shakespeare Club, has announced the group will sponsor a bridge luncheon March 4 at 11 a. m. in the home of Mrs. Paul S. Goodwin.

The Shakespeare Department of the club will meet at 11:30 a. m. March 6 in Stratford House for luncheon and to continue reading Henry VIII. There will be a discussion led by Jack Yynn, Shakespearean actor. Mrs. Charles H. Irving will be hostess.

HARTER WCTU
The regular monthly meeting of Harter WCTU has been slated for Feb. 26 at 2 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Joe V. Maule, 67 W. Laurel.

BOYS' CAMP
Final plans and specifications for construction of a 200-capacity county probation camp for boys on a county-owned site in the foothills above La Verne has been approved.

LEADING CAUSES OF DEATH IN THE U. S. AT ALL AGES

GIVE TO FIGHT HEART DISEASE

HEART SUNDAY will be held in Sierra Madre from 1 to 4 p. m. this Sunday with door-to-door solicitations. Money is used to fight heart disease which, as the chart clearly shows, is the nation's No. 1 killer.

Dear George:

I'll bet if you had a known it you never would have chopped down that cherry tree to those many years ago. Think of the prodigious amount of cherries that people have consumed in your behalf. Every red-blooded American child has heard sometime or another of your alleged honesty regarding your misdeed and has probably wished you'd never come out with that "Father, I cannot tell a lie" bit.

I wonder if you realize how deeply you affected this grand nation that you so proudly led in your time. Streets, bridges, statues, buildings, stamps, and even states, still revere you by bearing your famous name. Your birthday is a time for re-evaluating the principles for which you stood and is celebrated by the entire country without fail. More important, the Constitution you and your colleagues drafted and wrote still remains the core of our modern government.

Happy 227th birthday, dear George. Rest well assured that you gave this country a standard that will fly forever.

Sincerely,

"The People"

THE WILLIAM Kelleys of Mesaloe Lane are feeling greatly refreshed after a five-day holiday at the Allison Guest Ranch, near Solvang. They joined a group of Cal Alumni up there for a few days' relaxation with golf and horseback riding.

GRETCHEN GARLAND, 7-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Garland of Old House Road, celebrated a delayed birthday on Valentine's Day. Having a birthday coming two days after Christmas is no fun for any little girl, so they have come to celebrate it every year at this time. Of course, the motif was carried out red-heart-wise. Her guests were Molly and Peggy Clark, Melissa Mueller, Debbie Maurin, Robin McCarthy, Linda Kenney, Jeanie Phillips, Crissy Crane, Julie Pryor, Julie Damon, Sallye Plehn and Kathie Dorn.

ALL OF THE Mesita-ites got together recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Griffith to have a farewell party for the Harold Zooks who are now vacationing in Jamaica, and for the John Davidsons who will soon take a trip to the Caribbean. In addition to the honorees the guests included Messrs. and Mesdames Paul Biggar, Paul Siechert, R. L. Fox and Charles Schram. Last weekend the Griffiths were joined at their Wrightwood cabin by the Paul Siecherts and two of their children, Barbie and Carl, as well as Dick Evans and John Sorenson.

THE EVER building and remodeling Phil Surenmen of Vosburg are now in the midst of adding a pool to their home. They expect it to be finished in about two weeks.

PARTY-WISE, Gayle Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gardner of Barhite, celebrated her Valentine birthday with a teenage platter party. About 20 of her friends joined in the fun and dancing. In addition to the traditional heart-shaped birthday cake, snacks were served during the entire evening.

MR. AND MRS. Laurence Dietzel of Meyer Loa Lane are planning a post-play pie and coffee get-together. They will be joined by a number of friends at the Pasadena Playhouse showing of "Magnificent Yankee," sponsored on the 22nd by the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Parish. I am informed that tickets are still available for those interested. Call Mrs. Deitzel at SYcamore 4-9030.

THERE WERE 20 guests at the Fairpoint home of the Dave Elmers to help him celebrate his Valentine birthday. A midnight supper was served. Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. David

Bill Bower
Awarded
Club Honor

Sierra Madre Toastmasters met for their regular monthly meeting with Frank Wright acting as toastmaster for the evening.

Much interest was generated during the evening by the discussion of current topics—proposed California lottery, Hawaii's statehood, stock market conditions and inflation in men's clothing.

Bill Bower received best speaker honors with his speech, "How Is Your Catachresis?" Webster defines "catachresis" as the misuse of words.

Other speakers included Frank Page, Joe Karam, Jack Bailey and Neil Brady.

Three honored guests, Jim Wentz, Frank Crowhurst and Bill Hobbs, took an active part in the proceedings. Time and place for the club's next meeting will be announced at a later date. However, for those interested in specific information or in attending a meeting, Ross Morgan, president, may be reached at ELgin 5-8474.

Woods who returned just that afternoon from Boston where he was acting as an exchange professor at M.I.T., teaching a special course. He will resume his post at Caltech.

UP ON ...

Hastings Hill

Congratulations are due the new steering committee of the Hastings Ranch Dance Club—Tom and Marge Bickler, Vince and Dottie Bush, Jack and Belle Parich and Russ and Doris Pooler.

The club's anniversary Valentine dinner dance Saturday night was a large success, with the only difficulty coming when members couldn't decide whether it was the fourth or fifth anniversary. The club was organized in February 1955, and the question was whether you count the first dance as the first anniversary or the one in 1956 as the first anniversary. Regardless, the decorations were Valentine-y, the gals were chic, and the Four Sharps, who played for dancing, said it was a real pleasure to play for a bunch of revellers who really danced.

Looking especially dolled up for the party were Dottie Bush in an embroidered red Oriental satin skirt and black velvet top; Sara Jayne Caldecott in a myriad of blue lace ruffles; Marilyn Hyde, also in blue with a glamorous pair of dangly blue earrings; Lenna Jennings in black sheath with red satin cummerbund and huge-huge red rose; Dorothy Taylor in red satin.

Eleanor Wood is convalescing at home after a six-day stay in Arcadia Methodist Hospital following major surgery.

The Jim Gittinger home was very much "alive" when their nephew, Tom Kracke Schmid, and a classmate of his from Army Navy Academy in Carlsbad, George Walter, arrived in town for a party at Butch McBride's. Dinner was served one evening in between "renditions" on the piano by Jim and Ronnie Abernethy, accompanied by Tom on his brand new electric guitar. Valerie Lisinbee of San Diego also made the trip to Pasadena for the party.

Camp Fire Girls Report
Peanut Sale Success

Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls of the Sierra-Hastings Expressing appreciation for the girls' hard work, and District sold 5,856 cans of peanuts during the recent annual sale, according to the district chairman, Robert Cress.

For the residents who purchased the nuts, Mr. Cress offered special thanks to the merchants of their neighborhood who allowed the girls to sell their cans of peanuts at the doors of their stores.

Deena Sorensen and Carol Rody entertained their fellow members.

Telephone Co.
Asks Rereading
On Rate Request

California Water & Telephone Co. has applied to the California Public Utilities Commission for a rereading on its original petition for telephone rate increases on local exchange service, according to General Manager Peter A. Nenzel.

The company had originally requested rate increases which were expected to yield additional gross revenues of $1,700,000. On Jan. 20 the Public Utilities Commission approved new rates which would yield the company only $750,000, less than half the amount requested.

Nenzel announced that his company is applying for a rereading because it feels the increases granted are not just and reasonable. The company contends that the commission, in reaching its decision, made no provision for an attrition in earnings that will come about because of the higher cost of equipment necessary to serve new customers.

Guests were Gail Bruning, Bettina Raphael, Diana Smith, Nan Muelleavy, Vicki Dunnagan and Joan Frederick and their guardians, Mrs. Deverin Sorensen and Mrs. Walter Rody.

The girls recently made a trip to San Dimas Canyon Park, enjoying a nature hike and cookout.

FRIENDLY BLUE BIRDS, fourth graders from Sierra Madre, went ice skating Tuesday at the Pasadena Winter Garden.

Girls of this group are Jean Abbe, Judy Barbour, Georgia Cason, Betsy Harris, Kay Lindsay, Nancy McCall, Shelly Rempel, Sandra Smith, Cindy Warden, Annette, Paulette and Suzette Yates, Christen Bell and Mary Yematsu. Their leaders are Mrs. Francis Yematsu and Mrs. Robert Bell.

KITE CLASSES

Kites, by the hundreds, of many sizes and designs, will take to the air at all supervised Los Angeles County Parks during February and nearly all of March. The County Parks and Recreation Department is now conducting building classes.

Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Halperin, 1490 Old House Rd., were honored at a surprise dinner party, celebrating their silver wedding anniversary, last Sunday evening by their friends in the Paul D. Kaponya home, 1205 Pine Bluff.

Guests were seated at a U-shaped table, centered by a tiered wedding cake and decorated with white stock bouquets.

Highlights of the occasion were the presentation of a silver tray and chafing dish to the guests of honor and the enactment of an original skit, based on "This Is Your Life," by participating guests.

Among those arranging and taking part in the festivities were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Asher, Mr. and Mrs. Len Evers, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Tabahak, Mr. and Mrs. George Moffatt and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Burford.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Kiesner, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Davis, Mr. and Mrs. E. Marshall Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Klinker, Mrs. Isabel Redolf and guests of honor's daughter and son-in-law, the Bruce "Doc" Turnbolls.

Devonshires
Host Party
For Daughter

Frederika Devonshire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Devonshire, was guest of honor at an afternoon party celebrating her first birthday in the United States.

The 9-year-old honoree and her sister, Anna, 3, were adopted by the Devonshires last October when they came to Southern California from their native Greece.

The refreshment table was centered by a large birthday cake decorated with a rotating ballerina and red roses. Balloons were used to give the dining room a festive air.

In attendance were Nicholas Tringas, the attorney who made arrangements for the girls' adoption; his daughter, Theonia; Mrs. H. H. Pampeyan and Mrs. Cornelia Yankos, interpreters; Mrs. Ethel Packer and her son, George; Miss Marilyn James, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Phillips and two of the guest of honor's aunts, Mrs. Wilfred Milholland and Mrs. Mary Womack.

The Devonshires have a son, David, 6, a nephew, Tom Webb, 20, also resides with them.

'Teen' Code
Due Tonight

The final in a series of four meetings to evolve a "teen-age code" will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the Wilson Junior High auditorium.

Discussion by parents and students has been held for three successive weeks, and tonight's meeting is designed to evaluate and solidify these discussions into the "behavior guide." The meetings were set up through the adult education department at PCC, with Leo Buscaglia, popular therapist, assisting. Mrs. B. N. Howell is the PTA chairman of the series.

Jenkins Says
Excellence Is
School Goal

"Excellence" and "respect for excellence" are the aim of the Pasadena schools.

So said Dr. Robert Jenkins, Pasadena superintendent, speaking before the annual Founders Day meeting of Eugene Field PTA.

Dr. Jenkins said it is the desire of the school board and staff that every child achieve as much as he is capable of achieving and that his special interests and aptitudes be found and encouraged.

In line with the policy to broaden and enrich the school program, Dr. Jenkins said that all junior high schools will hold six-week summer sessions, that there will be four elementary summer sessions and two complete sessions at PCC.

He said studies are being made with an end toward lengthening the school day to provide more time for expanded subject matter.

Judith Smallman Engaged
To Paul Edward Mayo

Judith Carole Smallman

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leslie Smallman, 3870 Shadow Grove, announced the betrothal of their daughter, Judith Carole, to Paul Edward Mayo, son of Mrs. Woodward Bruce Mayo of Glendale and the late Dr. Mayo, when they entertained members of both families at a Sunday evening dinner.

The wedding will take place June 21 in Holliston Methodist Church of Pasadena. Miss Smallman's twin sister, Joan Cynthia Smallman, will be maid of honor.

Miss Smallman, a graduate of Pasadena High School, is a senior at the University of Southern California where she is majoring in music. She is a member of Alpha Phi.

Mr. Mayo, a graduate of the University of Southern California School of Music, is a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, honorary musical fraternity, and of Skull and Dagger, all-university men's honor society.

The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. John Smallman of Los Angeles and the late Mr. Smallman, a leader in the field of music in Southern California, and of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Beelby of Los Angeles and Grand Rapids, Mich.

Those receiving first class honors were Bob Francis, Bill Hillard, Craig Koch, Ricky

Dr. DuMond
To Address
ORT Members

Regina Trilling Chapter, Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training, will sponsor Dr. Jesse Williams Monroe DuMond, professor of Physics at Caltech, as the third speaker in its lecture series Feb. 22 in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Jesse Greenstein, 2057 San Pasqual, at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Of the numerous people who have traveled to see the great experiment in human living now being carried on in Israel, very few have been able to return to the United States with as detailed an understanding of the role played by science as Dr. DuMond.

He spent a great deal of time, last summer, as visiting physician at Weizmann Institute of Science, as well as the Hebrew University. He will show color slides which he took in Israel and discuss subjects such as—What are Israel's chances for survival?—How much has she achieved during her short existence?—And What does the future hold for her?

Proceeds from the event will benefit the work of ORT in its program of free, nonsectarian, vocational training in the underprivileged areas of the world.

Mrs. Ed Vail
Hostess to Garden Club

Mrs. Edward Vail, 3805 Newhaver, will be hostess to members of the Hastings Ranch Garden Club at their February meeting at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday.

After refreshments and a brief business meeting, the Hayes Spray Gun Co. will present a demonstration and movies.

Chairmen Announce Scores
For CF Bridge tournament

Mrs. Dominic F. Giangregorio, chairman, and Mrs. Gordon K. Wright, co-chairman, of the bridge tournaments sponsored by Hastings Ranch Guild to Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, have announced the standings in each tournament following the third series of play.

Wilson Mother,
Daughter Party
Set Thursday

The identities of "Miss Wilson" will be revealed at the annual mother-daughter party at Wilson Junior High School at 7:45 p.m. Feb. 26 in the Wilson auditorium.

"Miss Wilson" is being chosen through an elimination contest among all girl students, with emphasis placed on posture and good grooming. Forty girls from each of the four classes were selected, and from these will emerge the seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth grade "queens."

Members of the modern dance class and the Glee Club will furnish entertainment for the party.

Mrs. Arthur
Returns
From North

Mrs. J. B. Arthur, 1026 Cynthia, has returned from a trip through Northern California in the interest of Hotel Greeters of America, an organization made up of 10,000 hotel employees, owners and managers in North America.

Mrs. Arthur, life chairman of "See America First," was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stevens of San Bernardino and Mrs. Lou Thielke and Mrs. Elsie Andrews of San Diego.

While on the trip they were guests at Fresno Hotel, in Fresno; El Rancho Hotel, Sacramento, and Sir Francis Drake Hotel, San Francisco. En route home they visited Hearst's Castle at San Simeon.

The purpose of the tour was to arouse enthusiasm for a forthcoming convention of hotel greeters in San Diego, March 12-14.

First place in the second group is held by Joan and John Boldeman with 8,630. Fran and Gordon Wright are second with 5,830.

There are four more series to be played before the end of May. At that time, there will be a play-off of the winners in each group to determine the grand winner.

New Library
Now Open

The long awaited Hastings Branch Library opened with appropriate ceremonies Tuesday afternoon. City and county officials as well as civic leaders were present for the 2:30 p.m. opening.

Open house was held from 3:30 to 6 p.m., when hundreds of residents of the area looked over their new facility. Refreshments for the reception were made and donated by members of the four school PTAs which the library specifically serves—Field, Hale, Don Benito and Assumption.

The library is located at the intersection of East Orange Grove, Sierra Madre Villa and Rosemead.

Don Benito Girl Scouts who assisted at the open house were Judy Carter, Pamela Farnsworth, Andrea Amber, Marlene Epstein, Suzanne Roudenbush and Michelle Norris. Mrs. Betty Reinhart is their leader.

Sixth Grade Camp Fire Girls from Eugene Field, under leadership of Mrs. Joe Phillips, also served.

Field Honors
Four With Life Pins

Three mothers and one teacher, praised for outstanding service to children, church and community, were presented honorary PTA life memberships at the Eugene Field PTA Founders Day program.

Honored were Mrs. Willard Olwen, Mrs. Jack Paschall, Mrs. Stanley Woonick and Miss Louise Paulson, first grade teacher. The presentations were made, respectively, by Mrs. Leo Pankoska, Mrs. Charles Golds-worthy, Mrs. John Kane and Dr. Joseph Michaels, school principal. Mrs. Charles Rasmussen was chairman of the awards committee.

Receipt of an honorary membership brings a life member pin to the honoree, plus a gift of $25 to the PTA scholarship fund, which is helping to send many young people to college. Tuition loans as well as special scholarships in certain teacher courses are available through this fund.

Casting has just been completed and 130-hour rehearsal schedule is now underway for the Pasadena City College production of Maxwell Anderson's poetic drama "Winterset," to be presented March 13-14, in the Saxon Auditorium, under the direction of Annable Anderson.
"Winterset," which was a stunning success on Broadway with Burgess Meredith in the lead, will be a real challenge to the following PCC thespians who will be featured in the cast, according to Miss Anderson.
Lloyd Steele will play the leading role of Mio; Susan Shoemaker, Miriamne; Bob Bruce, Tock; William Boyle, Shadow.
Salvatore La Marga, Esdras; Robert Morris, Judge Gaunt; Paul Stevens, Garth; Jack Bauxbaum, Carr.
Jerry Overland, the Policeman; Robert Fluhr, the Sergeant; Richard Barmakian, Lucia; Joan Ouzounian, Piny; Leslie Perry, the Radical; Thomas Forbes, the Sailor; Judy Wither, Shirley and Ichirokoshihara, the Hobo.

An effective stage setting for the play is being designed by William Bockus, faculty art instructor, and Don Keck, stage technician.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Look me in the eye and tell me what you did with my turtle!"

Your Health . . .

Good Personal Hygiene Is Matter of Training

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

Cleanliness and good personal hygiene are within the reach of everyone. There is no substitute for the daily bath and the use of plenty of soap to rid the skin of dirt and odors.

The skin harbors germs which thrive on dirt. In its normal process of reproduction, the skin gives off waste materials from its sweat glands. As billions of new cells are produced daily in the lower layers of the skin, billions in the superficial or top layer, called the cuticle, become detached in the form of a dry scale. This dead material must be removed to permit the effective functioning of the skin.

JUST STEPPING into a tub of water is not enough. The skin should be rubbed vigorously with soap and particular attention paid to those parts of the body having folds of skin. Special attention should be paid to the feet and skin between the toes.

The daily bath should be a habit. Persons who perform strenuous work and whose sweat glands are overactive should take two baths a day. Nothing is so unpleasant as body odor.

Good personal hygiene includes frequent washing of the hands, particularly before and after meals, and the removal of dirt accumulation beneath the nails. The hair should be washed regularly and brushed daily to keep it free from dust and oil. Uncared for hair throws off a sort of rancid odor.

Clothing should be changed daily whenever possible, particularly clothing worn close to the skin. And fabrics hold odors and should be cleaned and washed frequently.

Good grooming does not mean fashionable clothes, expensive foot-gear and intricate hair styles. The well-scrubbed look is the basic first. Simple but clean clothes and attention to teeth, hair, skin and nails complete the picture.

A CLEAN BODY presents a wholesome appearance. A clean home gives a similar effect. Cooking utensils, dishes and silverware should be spotlessly clean. A ravenous appetite will be dulled if the food service is not sanitary.

Good personal hygiene is largely a matter of training and appreciation for the small details in cleanliness will foster the development of sound principles in hygiene in later years. Certainly it will obviate the growth into habits of carelessness and slovenliness.

Good hygiene should extend itself to the community. A person interested in keeping himself clean should attempt to keep his city clean. Discarding scraps of paper, fruit skins and other things clutter up a street, invite germs to spread disease and offer hazards for accidents.

Keep yourself, your home and your family clean.

CEC System in New Jet Engine

Delivery of an automatic data-recording and monitoring system for use in the test program of the highly advanced Pratt & Whitney Aircraft J-58 jet engine has been announced by the Systems Division, Consolidated Electrodynamics Corp.
The J-58, being developed and tested at Pratt & Whitney's new research and development center near West Palm Beach, Fla., will deliver 50 percent more power than the most powerful present U.S. military or commercial jet engine, the Pratt & Whitney J-75, according to the aircraft company.

Bedding Plants Keep Parade of Color Going

A quick look at your garden in coming weeks may lull you into a sense of complacency. Spring bulbs and other seasonal color bearers at their peak and nothing can compare with them. But ask yourself: "After spring, what?" If you're completely honest, you may well have to answer, "Not much."

That, says the California Association of Nurserymen, is the state of things to come in many a California garden. And that, too, is where the bedding plant stands ever ready to help out. Use it to keep the color parade going—to distract the eye from faded blooms and drooping bulb foliage that can't be rooted out yet.

WHAT YOU will and what you won't find in nurseries now depends mostly on where you live and what your weather is apt to be like. In mild-winter areas, the choice is wide. In snappier climates, you may have to wait before planting. Check with a C.A.N. nurseryman and plan to set out a flat or two of color at your first chance.

Among the plants to use for quick effect, Violas and Pansies certainly stand high on the list. Each shows some color soon after planting and when fairly started, adds a big splash of color to beds where drooping bulb foliage must be left to ripen. Calendulas are fast growing and almost gaudy in their orange and yellow tones. Few flowers brighten dull spots as well as these old-fashioned "Pot Marigolds." Pinch out tops when plants have about 8 inches of growth to encourage bushiness.

Stocks are slower to start bloom, but nothing's to be compared with their show once they start. Their season will overlap that of roses, so keep an eye to color combinations and contrast possibilities. Plant in the sun and where drainage is good. Make sure the chance of frost is past.

VERBENA is wonderful as a bedder. Or try it as an edging in front of white stock or around a bed of roses.

Such combinations with bedding plants are countless. The important thing to remember is to get them started as soon as possible. You do and we'll guarantee no letdown when spring's first splash of color has faded and gone.

Auto Industry Presents 3-Point Smog Control Plan

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16—Representatives of the automobile industry, in a presentation before the California Legislature, proposed a three-point program to improve the smog condition in Los Angeles.

Paul C. Ackerman, chairman of the industry's Engineering Advisory Committee and leader of the group making the presentation, stated that "based on five years of intensive research, the automotive industry now knows how to reduce substantially vehicle exhaust gas emissions."

However, he pointed out there is no real assurance that when this is accomplished it will completely cure the Los Angeles smog condition.

THE INDUSTRY had been invited by the California State Legislature and Gov. Edmund G. Brown to make a report on its research and development in connection with Los Angeles smog and to demonstrate experimental devices which it has developed for reduction of exhaust gas emissions.

Industry representative Charles A. Chayne, a member of the Engineering Advisory Committee, outlined the proposed program. He said the first step should be to establish an inspection procedure under official jurisdiction so that all the cars in the Los Angeles area could be regularly inspected for their hydrocarbon emission.

THE SECOND step should be a program to have all existing vehicles in the Los Angeles area put into proper mechanical condition because adequate technical evidence has been developed to show that such a procedure can result in some important reductions in the emission levels.

Chayne emphasized that the inspection and maintenance steps are not things that can be done quickly and easily. They will involve considerable time and cost to be put into effect. They should be started soon, he said, so they can be in effective operation by the time some form of exhaust gas control is a practical reality.

The third step would be the installation of exhaust control devices.

THE INDUSTRY reported that three different types of exhaust gas emission control devices have been developed and are in the testing stages. Two of these are catalytic converters and one is a non-catalytic afterburner. All three of these were described and demonstrated to the Legislature.

It was pointed out that, while models of these are now being tested on automobiles, there are still many problems to be solved before they can be practical and it is impossible at this time to set an exact time schedule. Among the problems are excessive heat, odor, catalyst attrition, and cost factors such as the possible need for stainless steel construction.

Victor G. Raviolo, the third member of the Engineering Advisory Committee to address the Legislature, stated that "present indications are that an exhaust system device alone might cost between $100 and $200 per installation."

Civic Aud Sets Enroll Garner Solo

Acclaimed as one of the world's most original pianists, Erroll Garner, who will give his only concert in this area this season at Pasadena Civic Auditorium, Saturday night, Feb. 28 is also a prolific composer.

The first jazz musician ever to be sent on a trans-continental concert tour by Impresario S. Huron, Garner, who is completely self-taught, has evolved his own system of playing the piano by ear, composes on tape. His work, then, is transcribed by others.

GARNER usually features some of his own works in his concerts, often improvising during the performance itself. Then the audience is witness to the birth of a possibly new hit tune.

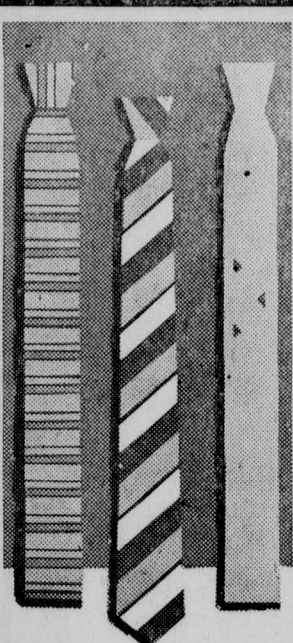

Garner received the coveted Grand Prix du Disque from the French Academy of Arts for his recording during performance album, "Jazz Pour Tous." Presentation of the award was made by the president of the French National Assembly in Paris and later that same day, Garner was honored at the burial of the recording in a "time capsule" ceremony at the Comedie Francaise.

AN "ORIGINAL" if ever there was one, Garner's music is unclassifiable, and is termed simply "Garner." His musical mind is uncanny and, although many pianists emulate his more pronounced mannerisms, his style is virtually impossible to duplicate since it ranges almost limitlessly through all manner of personal approaches to a basic theme.

His concerts are like no other. His program lists no music titles for he waits until he senses the audience and the "occasion" before deciding what to play. He works almost entirely in improvisation, performing with his bassist, Edward Calhoun, and percussionist, Kelly Martin, in a tightly knit ensemble.

FUTURE TEACHERS

Mrs. Roosevelt at Civic Auditorium

"Russia, The Country and the People as I saw Them," will be the subject of a talk to be given by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, in Pasadena Civic Auditorium, Friday evening, March 6, it was announced today by Elmer Wilson, sponsor of the coming lecture.

Mrs. Roosevelt, talking from personal experience at what she saw during her recent visit to the U.S.S.R., will outline what is going on in Russia today.

As she is quoted in the East during a recent talk, "the accomplishments in the Soviet Union are a challenge to us, not only in the military field, but also in the economic, cultural and spiritual fields."

ORCHID SHOW

The first annual Southland orchid show will be staged at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum in Arcadia on Saturday and Sunday, March 21 and 22. The event will be free.
